INTRODUCTION

Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY) plays a vital role in promoting access to economic and social services and strengthening rural livelihoods by providing all weather connectivity to eligible habitations. In order to meet the environment concerns and also to facilitate greening of rural development programme, it has been decided to implement road side plantation by Planting fruit bearing and other long life and shelter giving trees on either side of PMGSY roads. This would provide protection to roads, check soil erosion, and more importantly mitigate the effects of climate change. In this background a one day training Programme is proposed to orient the officials and engineers of PMGSY for understanding of environment concerns, greening of local area and safety measures for PMGSY Roads.

OBJECTIVES

- To orient participants on environmental concerns, road safety and greening of local areas.
- To orient on standards and technical of tree plantation for various carriageways.
- To orient on species selection for local agro climatic conditions.
- To orient on technical details of plantation for different soils, terrains and seasonality.
